Nearly one month postpartum...
 Bell's palsy symptoms: gone!
 Pregnancy weight: 19 pounds shed, 3 left to lose
 Date nights: 2 and counting. Thanks, Mom (Renee Peterson)!

More on the good news front:
 I have been in my own apartment for about a month now, and am loving it.
 I am pretty much in the middle of USC's campus in Los Angeles and couldn't be happier. I even have a spare room (den) for my upcoming (presumed) scholarly work.... See More

Opinion The New York Times

EDITORIAL

A FREE PRESS NEEDS YOU

entirely right. News reporters and editors are human and make mistakes. Correcting them is core to our job. But insisting that truths you don't like are "fake news" is dangerous to the lifeblood of democracy. And calling journalists the "enemy of the people" is dangerous, period.

These attacks on the press are particularly threatening to journalists in nations with a long tradition of free speech and to smaller publications that are threatened by the secure rule of law and the free press of the United States, already buffeted by the country's economic crisis. And yet the brave journalists continue to do the job that the world needs.

In 1787, the year the Constitution was adopted, Thomas Jefferson famously wrote to a friend, "were it left to me to decide whether we should have a government without newspapers, or a government without a press, I should not hesitate to prefer the latter."

It is a good question to ask before endorsing the government's actions. But it is a question that should be asked before endorsing the government's actions.
